ABOUT

More Than a Band. An Experience.

7th Ave is a vocal band based in Orlando, Florida that delivers a high-energy, genre-hopping live show unlike anything else on the circuit. Part concert, part comedy, part variety show — the group blends pop, soul, swing, country, and rock into a performance packed with humor, heart, and jaw-dropping vocal talent.

With four voices that can fill any room, 7th Ave reimagines the songs you love with creative arrangements, infectious energy, and the kind of onstage chemistry that keeps audiences laughing, singing along, and on their feet. And when the band strips it down to pure a cappella, the harmonies hit different — it's the moment in every show that gives the whole room chills.

Backed by three studio albums, 50+ music videos, millions of YouTube views, and roots in some of the biggest names in vocal music, 7th Ave is a family-friendly act built for any stage — from intimate venues to festivals to corporate events.

Chris Rupp

Chris Rupp

FOUNDER · VOCALS · ARRANGER

Chris co-founded Home Free in 2000 and spent 15 years building the group into the champions of NBC's The Sing-Off. As a gifted arranger, songwriter, and producer with a degree in music from Minnesota State University, Chris crafts every 7th Ave arrangement and leads the group's creative vision.

Jeff Grider

TENOR · VOCAL PERCUSSIONIST

A versatile tenor and vocal percussionist whose career spans premier a cappella stages, international cruise lines, and some of the most respected vocal ensembles in the country. Jeff has performed with Home Free, The Alley Cats, and three major cruise lines, and currently also performs with Disney's acclaimed Voices of Liberty. He holds a doctorate from the University of Illinois.
